Hacking Game Version 2 Description

1. The game opens a window

- It has title Hacking
- It has aspect ratio 6:5
- It has a black background

2. The game displays a header

- It consists of two content lines followed by a blank line
- The first content line indicates debug mode
- The second content line indicates 1 attempt left
- It is in the top left corner of the window
- It uses small font size
- It is green on black
- It has a 0.3 second pause after displaying each line

3. The game displays a password list

- It uses small font size
- It is green on black
- It has a 0.3 second pause after displaying each line
- It consists of 13 content lines followed by a blank line
- Each content line contains one password
- It is directly below the header

4. The game prompts for a guess

- It indicates the player should enter a password
- It is in directly below the password list
- It uses small font size
- It is green on black

5. The player enters a guess and presses the enter key

6. The game clears the window

7. The game displays a failure outcome

- It uses small font size
- It is green on black
- It has a 0.3 second pause after displaying each line
- It contains four content lines separated by three blank lines
- The first content line is the guess
- The second and third content lines indicate failure
- The fourth content line is a prompt to press enter for exit
- It is in the center of the window

8. The player presses the enter key to exit the program

9. The game closes the window